Hillel UW helped me craft my own brand of Judaism by providing me the tools to navigate my own path.

Ruth Ferguson, Program Associate, Hillel International, University of Washington - Class of 2015

The college and post-college years mark the first time many young Jewish adults are empowered to make critical decisions about their life's Jewish journey. Our Jewish future rests on the ability of our students and young adults to chart their own Jewish pathway, and recent studies have found that a student's involvement in Hillel is one of the greatest predictors of future Jewish leadership.

Hillel UW is a catalyst toward a meaningful Jewish life for 18-35 year-olds through vibrant communities and innovative experiences. Our programming includes creative educational and social events, Shabbat and holiday meals, Israel programs, and social justice activities.

At Hillel, our students and young adults...

- Find a warm and engaging home away from home;
- Integrate Judaism into their own life choices and expressions;
- Experience spiritual diversity;
- Explore, connect and celebrate their Judaism;
- Nourish relationships with the larger Jewish community; and
- Exercise leadership preparing them for their future.

Hillel UW alumni strengthen the fabric of Jewish life in Seattle. An investment in Hillel UW is an investment in our Jewish students and young adults, and directly impacts the overall health of our Seattle Jewish community.

Our legacy donors are individuals, like you, who share our values and want to ensure that Hillel UW is here to provide a home for Jewish students and young adults for years to come.
